

Satoliya

Event Description

Satoliya is a traditional Indian game that tests aim, agility, and teamwork through hitting and rebuilding stacked stones.

Rules & Guidelines

1. Each team will consist of an equal number of players.
2. The game will be played within a marked area.
3. One team will throw the ball to break the stone stack.
4. The opposing team will try to hit players with the ball while defending the stones.
5. Players must avoid being hit while rebuilding the stack.
6. Head shots are not allowed.
7. The team that successfully rebuilds the stack wins the round.
8. The coordinator's decision will be final.

Competition Rulebook

1. Start: Team A throws the ball to knock down the pile of stones.
 2. Attackers' Role: After knocking down, Team A must rebuild the pile while avoiding being hit by the ball.
 3. Defenders' Role: Team B retrieves the ball and tries to hit Team A players with it.
 4. Elimination: If a player from Team A is hit by the ball before the pile is rebuilt, they are out.
 5. Scoring:
 - Successful rebuild = 1 point for Team A.
 - If Team B prevents the rebuild, they gain the turn to attack.
 6. Winning: The team with the highest points after all rounds wins.
 7. Fair Play: No intentional harm; ball must be thrown below shoulder level.
 8. Time Limit: Each round lasts 5–10 minutes.
